We heard a knock. But there was more.

Posted by Keith - 03 Oct 2011 22:23

_____

Hello all.

In the same poor house as the crying EVP I posted, about an hour earlier in a room at the far end of a hall below ground level, chains hung from hooks in the wall. No electricity No running water and no heat in the building. We talked with a spirit named jack. We had ended the EVP session but I never shut off my recorder even when moving locations. We heard this metallic knock but what we found after reviewing was the weird noises before the knock.

I would like to know if anyone else has heard this type of noise during EVP recording. Also what is it?

Thanks in advance for any help .

Keith

==========