"I'm drowning"

I leave here a creepy EVP that we perceive time ago and I can assure you will shudder. A man's voice tells us and makes us feel almost drowning .... listen:

ME AHOGO (in Spanish) / I drown (in English)

I listened to the evp and found that it sounded like cough over and over...something like 15 or so times in a three word sync....never heard I'm drowning. ???? can you shed some light on this for me? thanks LadyJ2011

Oh wow, good catch! Usually evps are only whispers but this caught the sound of the voice clearly and a very clear "me ahogo."

What if I can say is that this EVP was captured precisely in the course of an investigation about a place where very many people had drowned...
