My thoughts about myself being sensitive are that I honestly don't think I am but I have a gift. The women in my family have it as well as my son. I don't see full bodied, in detail spirits but I have had experiences that I can't explain and I have seen shadows shaped like a person.

How does one find out for sure when the experiences are...let's say limited? Is there a way to be tested or is it something you just know? I'd like to fully understand for myself and my son. Any thoughts or opinions are most welcome.

I had mine since I was little but I wasn't sure about the paranormal til a few years ago. What can you do when you are little and see spirits who don't mean to scare you lol! For me I just knew. It might be different for you or you might have had it at an early age too and its progressing.

I understand that completely...children are innocent and have very vivid imaginations and are therefore easy to manipulate, in a good and sometimes bad way, by spirits. So for a child it can be very scary.

My first experience was when I was 16 and nothing til I was 29. Now things happen more and more...mostly it's someone letting me know they are with me...tapping on me twice...or a feeling I get sometimes. I can't explain it I just know it's not something normal lol.

Lol! Ya it is hard for younger children to go through this and not knowing how to deal with things like this. For me I always thought I was seeing an evil entity but as I got older, I felt like that wasn't the case. It had to be someone who needed help but didn't know how to respond to a 3 year old girl.

Hi, for me with my experiences I just know. I know what I can do and can't. But then again I never really persude it. I've spent most of my life keeping it back and refusing to accept what I have.

When you spend most of your life being told that your lying and making things up, you tend to leave things be. Trust your feelings, your gut, they are always right.

Hi there sixsense, good to see you again.

I thank you for saying that. The very slim number of responses I've gotten were just silence or a "Yea, whatever." so I don't say much about what happens to me.

That's exactly what I'm doing...pursuing my gifts. Thanks for the reminder...trust my feelings and my gut.
