I am sorry I do not understand the question either. Possibly more detailed information is required to be able to answer that.

A photo of the area in question might also help.

Might also find out where the glass came from and what kind of wood the frame is made from.

What I'm trying to get at is not really what species of plant or anything, more trying to figure out if there would be a physical way of these leaves being on the mirror naturally, ie, if the wardrobes were outside or near a window or if the leaves were of inside plants or even plants at all or if they were, I dunno, drawings, shadows, etc.

My thoughts are, without really knowing the situation, that, A: sometimes a certain spirit will leave little mementos like that to say, "I'm ok, I'm around." Lots of times these come in the forms of random feathers or flowers popping up where none were planted. But leaves, I believe could be used as well. Or, B: whatever spirit that's around is trying to cover the reflection for some reason? Some people do believe that mirrors can be or create portals; some also believe that a mirror facing out a window will deflect spirits and prevent them from entering the house. Just my thoughts.

If no other means of spirit attatchment can be found at the house, type wood can help determine the area the tree tree came from. Possible outside attatchment.

well my mums bedroom is where i got my spirit attachment from...from a vortex...my mum has alot of spirit activity going on in bedroom...this has only happened twice with the leafs on the glass wardrobes...nothing special about the wood...and markings on glass.just plain glass.....this is the same room where my mum, and i have also seen..the grey and black mist...which is there everynight...also a spirit very clearly trying to take shape, at the end of her bed..i have tried to tell my mam all this is not normal, why would good spirit want to hang around a bedromm everynight ? i think they are ones who may have come through the vortex..could i be right ? and do you think maybe she should get help in getting them crossed over..because she see's alot of shadows walking about in the room..also she shes spirit sometimes pulling faces at her...this too me is not good...but my mum has never been hurt..sometimes she gets nervous when the black mist comes close to her..my mum is like me,sensitive to spirit..can you tell me what you think..thank you..x

Hiya, hope you are keeping well. I think that this sounds so unusual that nobody, including me can visualise what it looks like. If someone could take a photo that would be fantastic and may get you & Mum an answer.

My best

Dave
