You and I have discussed some ideas for the site. I think the folks are going to be very excited with what's coming to G N H.

I want to thank everyone who's visited the Top Paranormal Sites page and left your reviews so far. It really means a lot to see what everyone thinks. One thing I personally pride myself on is on listening to what people want, and trying to be concious of the "Patterns in the winds" so to speak of the usage of this site. I try to put special attention to the areas our members use more, and continually add new areas and features. My hope is to great a living and growing entity here which is truley in touch with what people want.

So its very important for me to read the reviews and ideas of our members.

Thanks to all!

Just a heads up! In just 2 days we've moved from #600 on Top Paranormal Sites to 73, then 54. Now today after 2 days we are #14 and rapidly moving to the Number #1 paranormal site in the world. Thanks to everyone for your continued support and making us grow so rapidly. Great things are in store for next year for us all as we progress and start building more tools for investigators and enthusiasts alike.

Hey guys, thanks for the vote of confidence. But the rankings are purely based on usage statistics. The voting just serves as a way to provide us with feedback so we know how we're doing.

Thanks again to everyone. We certainly have the membership and readership to push us to #1 once the statistics catch up. It can take a full month for the numbers to add up it bases it on weekly and monthly averages.
