Heres a strange one (photo to discuss)

Was out testing the cameras at a local spot we go to, was just taking some photos when this appeared in the shot.

It was a clear night, no fog no rain no one was smoking, just wanted a little help, any ideas?

Did you have any strange feelings at the time it was taken?

Very odd anomaly for sure.

Altho I tend to be more interested in the EVP business, looking at everyone's photos is making me go back and relook at mine!

Cant wait to hear what everyone else has to say on this one.

Gee, wonder what that looks like this picture, one that we grasp a few years .... and I must say friend, but nobody has been able to give an explanation to date.

Someday I will tell you everything that happened in this place ...

Awsome pic. Looks like you may have captured a spirit for sure. While i was reviewing a photo at Bobby Mackey's website they said it was smoke but also could see a woman appear in the smoke. So even if it was something that could have been explained always look into the photo anyways.
